California Proposition 19: Poll Review for October 2010

Eric Martin, MAC, CADC III, CPS

Over the past 18 months, eleven major polls, sampling more than 6,000 likely voters have collected voter attitudes regarding Proposition 19 and/or the legalization of marijuana. To date, these averages suggest that California Proposition 19 would likely pass,

Early polls showed 56% in favor of marijuana legalization. As November draws near, favorability is slowing in the polls, making Prop 19 a real “nail-biter.”
