NHTSA Working on increasing "Drug Driving" problem in the U.S.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/staticfiles/nti/pdf/811438.pdf>

According to the NSDUH, Oregon ranks as a Top 10 State for self reported "drug driving"

Dr. H. Westley Clark, MD, JD, MPH, CAS, FASAM, Director Center for Substance Abuse Treatment, reports on the success of ATR “Access to Recovery” and the success of Recovery Mentors

Dr. Clark reported on ATR grants Recovery Mentor support services in 20 States. Data on outcomes show positive effects of recovery support services:

- Abstinence from substance use was maintained by 92% of the clients six months post admission.
- Employment increased 17.2% from intake to six months post admission.
- Stable housing increased 18.4% from baseline to six months admission.

Drug Driving Fatalities Increasing

The Fatality Analysis Reporting System (FARS), a census of fatal motor vehicle traffic crashes, provides data on the presence of drugs among drivers. Categories of drugs include narcotics, depressants, stimulants, hallucinogens, marijuana and other cannabinoids, phencyclidines, anabolic steroids, and inhalants. In 2009, 63% or 21,789 of fatally injured drivers were tested for the presence of drugs and entered into FARS. Eighteen percent of all fatally injured drivers in the United States in 2009 were positive for drugs other than alcohol, 37% were negative for drugs and 8% of drivers had unknown results. However, of the 12,055 drivers with known test results, 33% were positive for drugs. While the number of drivers killed in motor vehicle crashes has declined, the number of drivers positive for drugs has increased nearly 18%.

To whom it may concern,

RE: 12 Steps Unlocked book

I found the content of 12 Steps Unlocked to be a comprehensive and clear explanation of 12 Step programs. The stories in the book enhanced the reader's ability to understand the concepts of 12 Step Recovery. The beginning of the book gives the characteristics that the reader can identify with and a simple way of explaining denial. The book provides a nuts and bolts approach to the steps, while giving the reader an understanding of its benefits.

12 Steps Unlocked gives not only an explanation of the steps, but of the entire culture of recovery. Sponsorship, service work, attending 12 Step conventions and all activity in recovery which occur outside of the 12 Step meetings are discussed thoroughly. I have incorporated this book in the entrance packet given to all of our clients. We want to give our clients the best resources available to prepare them for re-entry into their community.

Sincerely,

Don Langenberg
Executive Director
